Weatherization Assistance Program

Through this program, eligible low-income Alaskans can lower the cost of heating their homes. AHFC provides funds to non-profit organizations and municipalities. To apply for the program, Alaskans should contact the program provider for their area.

Individuals who meet income guidelines may apply for the Weatherization Program through the weatherization service provider in their area. Homeowners and renters may apply.

The weatherization provider will provide program services at no cost to qualified applicants.

For someone living in a home owned by a state-designated regional housing authority, contact the housing authority directly.

Individuals may not participate in both the Weatherization Program and the AHFC Home Energy Rebate after May 1, 2008. (OR) If individuals received Weatherization Assistance Program Services after April 14, 2008.

The WX application is available at www.thrha.org website to download.
